Disorderly Conduct	5/3/09 4:12pm	Parking Lot A	E. Diggs
On May 3, 2009 at approximately 4:15pm, the motorcycle class instructor made an emergency call for a hostile individual that was disturbing their class. Security arrived on the scene along with another officer. Security pulled up at the gate and saw the instructor and the hostile individual. As soon as Security got out of the vehicle, the hostile individual responded in anger and said "Why are you blocking my way." Security tried to talk to him to find out what happened and get some information. The individual was not co-operative; he was loud, angry, refusing to provide any information and insisting that Security let him leave immediately. The hostile individual asked us to call 911 which Security did. As Security was talking to the dispatcher, a black female jumped out of the driver's side, which was indentified later. She started to yell at Security while he was on the phone with the dispatcher saying "Why are you calling the police?" She insisted that Security let her leave and became very loud and angry. At one point she said "If you don't move your vehicles I will jump in and move it for you." She was yelling to the point the 911 dispatcher asked if Security needed her to stay on the line until the police arrived. At approximately 4:20 two Howard County Police Officers arrived. The police officers calmed down the situation. When the two subjects gave Security their information, the police let the individuals leave with no arrest made. Security went to the instructor to find out what happened. He stated there was a car parked at the far end of lot A. While the class was in session driving motorcycles, he saw a car approaching and he put up his hands in the air and screamed to stop the car. This is when the individual got out the car and started yelling at him.

Suspicious Subjects	5/7/09 8:50pm	Parking Lot G	P. Davis

Summary

Security was parked in mobile 1 vehicle outside of Hickory Ridge when a gray Acura came to an abrupt stop in the middle of the drive lane behind the mobile. Security approached the vehicle and asked them if everything was alright. There was a black male driving and a white female passenger. The male stepped out, and said that his friend was non-responsive, but how he said it and how he moved; Security immediately knew that he was intoxicated. Another officer was nearby and came to assist. When Security tried to speak to the girl she moved slowly, as if in a daze, and her words were slurred. Security learned that that they were not students. The man wanted the female to drive them away, but Security knew that they both intoxicated and in no condition to drive, so contacted another officer who then called the police. After making the call, Security tried to distract the individuals so they wouldn't run away before the police arrived. Security accompanied the man who wanted to use the restroom in Hickory Ridge. Another Security officer stayed outside with the female. At 9:06, a Howard County Police Officer arrived on the scene. Security informed the police officer of what happened and how they seemed intoxicated. He tried to speak with the female, but she was non-responsive, staring straight ahead or pressing her cell phone. At this point, the man was still inside Hickory Ridge. Moments into the police officer's assessment, he called for back up. Four more police cruisers arrived. When the man came out of Hickory Ridge and saw the police, he tried to flee across the parking lot, but the police surrounded him. They handcuffed him, and found a small bag of marijuana. Both of the individuals eventually admitted to smoking marijuana and injecting PCP earlier in the evening. Both were placed under arrest in the back of two separate police cruisers. When the police searched the vehicle, they found five large bags of marijuana and four vials of PCP. The police arrested the man for DUI and drug possession, and the girl for drug use. At 9:45, the police escorted the two individuals off campus. At 9:55, the car was towed by Bill's Towing Company. During the process of the incident, Security was able to obtain pertinent information of both individuals and a driver's license picture of the male, but not the female. When Security tried to take a picture of her using the digital camera, she turned away. The police officers were very appreciative that we called them about the situation. The male already has a criminal record.
